

Tacton CPQ Document Generation

ACADEMY-TACTONCPQ-203

Academy-TactonCPQ-203 is designed to give participants an understanding of document generation through hands-on work with advanced document templates in Tacton CPQ Administration. The goal of the course is for the participants to know how to translate their document generation requirements into Document Templates and be able to setup and maintain these on their own.

The course consists of a mix of both theoretical parts as well as practical hands-on exercises.

TYPICAL STUDENT

Engineers, product managers or product experts who will be responsible for setting up and maintaining the document generation templates.

Solution architects, system administrators or other project members who want a better understanding of Tacton document generation.
